

Helsinki, National Museum, H55025:1a + H55025:1b, ?

Saec. XIV

Contents

The text is extremely faded and only isolated words are visible. The format, script and use of abbreviations suggest a university text.

Structure

Two pieces of parchment. 6,5 x 5,5*. Both pieces have been cut. 15 lines of text visible in one column.

Script

A saec. XIV gothic cursive.

Decoration

Underlining in red.

Provenance

The fragments were used to patch the centre relief of the altar cabinet in the church of Vöyri.

Binding

No binding

History

The fragments are of unknown origin. Their format, script and abbreviations suggest they stem from a university book. They were used as patches in an altar cabinet in the church of Vöyri.

Ville Walta